QUEEN'S Tea

Inspired by Nick's official commission to design a teapot for the Queen's Diamond Jubilee in 2012. The original now sits in a glass cabinet in Buckingham Palace. And in celebration of Her Majesty's long reign, we launched a special range of products that bring the luxury tea drinking experience home, so you too can drink tea like the Queen.

The Trombone Barware collection is available in a variety of different finishes including stainless steel and gold.

PVD coating is used for the gold and provides a scratch proof layer making the product more durable whilst altering it's colour.

SPHERES Salt & Pepper

When Nick studied Design at the Royal College of Art, he used to take the old Routemaster buses and would always sit in the front seat on the top deck, because there was a window that you could lower by turning a cast winder. And in due course it became the inspiration for the Spheres Salt and Pepper mills which were originally cast from Sheffield Pewter in the early 1990s.
